ENCASED POSTAGE STAMPS

These very interesting numismatic items were used in place of small change for a short time during the Civil War. They are rapidly disappearing from the market and are seldom offered more than one or two at a time. Stamp collectors are after them too. Most of the cases carry advertising as J. Gault the inventor sold them for for that purpose. The last big offering was in the Dunham Sale in 1941 and it is now practically impossible to secure more than a representative collection.

They are much scarcer than the catalog indicates and consequently bids of less than 90% of catalog value on all except nos. 309, 318 and 320 are respectfully declined.

CENTS

CLOSING
DATE
NOV 12 TH

On the following pages, the Large Copper Cents are Catalogued by a new and concise method with the use of a Chart giving date, variety, condition, book value and final value after discounting for blemishes.

The work was done by a prominent young Cent Collector (who prefers to remain anonymous at this time). He could do it on an impartial basis without prejudice either way. He has used Dr. Sheldon's new work on Large Cents as a basis and has gone beyond it in an effort to arrive at a satisfactory evaluation by a percentagewise discount for blemishes, mutilations etc.

The method is new and modern, but it carries out the old methods of grading without condition inflation. It is easy to understand with a little effort and I believe fair. In fact, I firmly believe that Sheldon's Method of Quantitative Grading and this method of percentage discounting for blemishes is the coming procedure and sooner or later will be applied to all United States Coins. I know that there will be disagreement, but the fact remains that numismatics is still in the infancy stage in this country and progress is ever forward. It won't be many years until it will be impossible to obtain all varieties regardless of condition.

NOTES AND EXPLANATION OF CHART

1. LOT No. and Date are obvious.
2. NEW VARIETY -Sheldon Numbers from his new work on Large Cents. Newcomb Numbers for later dates.
3. OLD VARIETY NUMBER- H-Hays, D-Doughty, C-Clapp, N-Newcomb.
4. RARITY- Sheldon's Scale (page 44) as follows;

R-1 Common
R-2 Not so Common
R-3 Scarce,
R-4 Very Scarce (76 to 200)
R-5 Rare (31-75)
R-6 Very Rare (13-30)
R-7 Extremely Rare (4 to 12)
R-8 Unique or nearly so (1,2 or 3)

Later dates have Newcomb Rarity Numbers

5. NO BLEMISH CONDITION Sheldon's Quantitative Scale (page 41) based on wear only. Extended on later dates as well.
6. BASAL VALUE from Sheldon's work, based on his observation of the consistent prices brought for these coins and referred back to what is called a Basal State, approximately POOR but identifiable and unutilated.

- Worked out from Standard Catalog Values for later dates
7. NO BLEMISH VALUE The product of Condition (5) and the BASAL VALUE disregarding blemishes.

8. PERCENT OF NO BLEMISH VALUE-This is an arbitrary percentage to take care of all degradations, other than wear. These include corrosion, erosion, stains, planchet defects, edge nicks mutilation, nicks and cuts etc., artificial coloring, cleaning retooling, off center striking if bad enough and lightly struck if severe.

It will be readily seen that where this value is given as 100% the coin will be a pretty swell specimen and 80 to 90 % indicates minor defects. Likewise down to 25% for badly blemished coins.

In other words, the devaluation of a coin caused by blemishes is made percentagewise rather than with the use of words which are apt to be misleading or misunderstood.

(Detailed description of blemishes on the coins in this sale will be given interested bidders upon request or coins may be examined at your expense for transportation, provided that you act promptly so that others have the same opportunity and the coins are returned in time for the sale).

9. VALUE (Final) This is the product of Sheldon's NO BLEMISH VALUE (7) and the percentage of that value (8) discounting for blemishes.

10. REMARKS- Under this heading the principal names or features varieties are given where space permits.

The Cents are from two collections that have been off of the market since 1900. Of course, the 1793's, 1799 and 1804's are long gone to special waiting lists where coins are sold on quotation. However, there are some choice and even rare Cents in the Sale. Since the common coins were in the collections they are carried along for the educational value in showing how this system works.

The following were uncovered too late to get in the above CHART CATALOG, so they are listed separately by the old method with the details of the new thrown in.

562- 1795 Sheldon 73,1A, Not in D, CN1, Lettered edge/Hyphen Variety. Sheldon Rarity 6 (13-30) Basal value $6. The condition is VG5 or book value of $30, medium surface erosion on obverse and small dent at jaw line which does not detract much from the appearance, judged to be worth 60% of book value or $18.00 not bad for this rarity.

563- 1797 S-122, RARITY 7 Closest Date 1 touches ribbon, not in Doughty, CN4. Rarity 7 means 4 to 12 known. Basal value $5.00 (Too low when condition census indicates the finest known only F12 and next five VG8) I call this VG10 though it may be considered F12. has a very old corrosion area (light) around head and old square pitted area at neck and hair, hardly noticeable on this rare and desirable variety which is without die breaks. Present book value $10.00 and easily a 90% coin or worth $45.00 and I think underrated at that.

You can readily see which is the better method for cataloguing. You will want to see them anyway regardless of how it is done, so we might just as well save space, time and money. Which is something that can be passed on in lower prices.

NOTE The closing date on the Cent Section of this Sale was extended one week in order to give you an opportunity for personal examination. But you must act promptly and consider the other fellow by not holding them any longer than necessary.

THIS IS A MAIL AUCTION AND BIDS ARE EXCEPTED BY MAIL ONLY This is done to give everyone an equal chance. C. W. Foster JAN EM 171.
